Flying man-sized airplanes at around 300 miles an hour is a hobby of the versatile wife of Floyd Odlum, financier.

Jacqueline Cochran

She Receives Congratulations from Alex de Seversky, maker of the plane, on flying from New York to Miami in 4 hr., 12 min., roughly 300 miles an hour, the best record ever made for the run. She has four world or U. S. women's marks, one of 293 miles an hour in a Detroit race. When not flying, she runs a cosmetics business, a date farm and a sheep ranch.
